

PROJECT HOPE

Emergency Refugee Resettlement Campaign
1 Year Anniversary

One year ago, on September 8, 2015, Cardinal Thomas Collins, Archbishop of Toronto announced an ambitious 100-day campaign to raise $3 million to welcome 100 refugee families to the Greater Toronto Area as soon as possible. A year later, the Catholic community is reflecting on the successes of the effort while highlighting the need to hasten the arrival of those who remain displaced and waiting anxiously to call Canada home.

Project Hope raised $3.7 million to sponsor refugees fleeing areas of conflict and insecurity. A particular emphasis was placed on refugees fleeing Syria and Iraq. Cardinal Collins commented on the overwhelming outpouring of generosity:

“The incredible response to Project Hope allowed us to mobilize both human and financial resources quickly and effectively. I am most grateful to everyone who embraced this outstanding effort; from those who have volunteered, sponsored and supported families in the past to those with no past involvement. It was particularly heartening to see schools, businesses and other faith communities partner with us to foster a culture of care for those fleeing violence and persecution.”

Assistance for refugee families through Project Hope began in October 2015 when a team of eight volunteers from the Archdiocese of Toronto’s Office for Refugees traveled to Jordan, identifying and streamlining the application process. The first refugee family arrived from Syria on December 20, 2015.

The Archdiocese of Toronto is one of the largest private sponsors of refugees in Canada, providing leadership through a full-time office since 2009. Commitments to Project Hope were above and beyond current efforts underway in the archdiocese before the crisis of 2015 garnered headlines around the world.

Statistics related to Project Hope resettlement efforts:

- 105 Project Hope volunteer groups identified (68 parish groups, 37 other resettlement groups – businesses, other faith communities, local organizations);
- 154 refugee families (cases), representing 407 individuals submitted to the government requesting sponsorship;
- 44 families (cases), representing 133 individuals have arrived in Canada to date;
- Arrivals by country include:
Syria – 41 families (130 individuals)
Sudan – 3 (3 individuals)
- Cases still awaiting arrival:
Syria – 48 families (111 individuals)
Iraq – 60 families (162 individuals)
Sudan – 1 family (5 individuals)
Somalia – 1 family (1 individual)

But if only someone would go to them. Pray for those who are called to ‘run the race’ as priests, sisters, deacons or brothers.
